Preface

For addressing the present infrastructure deficit across sectors and for meeting the requirements arising out of a robust growth in GDP, a large volume of investment would be necessary for building new infrastructure projects. Public sector alone cannot meet this requirement, both in terms of funds as well as capacity. The Government has, therefore, taken several initiatives to attract private investment through Public Private Partnerships (PPP).

PPP transactions involve diverse and conflicting interests of different stakeholders including the government, investors, lenders and users. An ill-conceived PPP contract can easily compromise user interests by recovery of higher charges and provision of low quality services. It can also compromise the public exchequer in the form of costlier or uncompetitive bids as well as subsequent claims for additional payments or compensation. As such, the importance of a sound PPP contract can hardly be over-emphasised. Structuring of a PPP contract, however, requires specialised skills and experience, which are normally not available within the Government. It is, therefore, necessary to engage legal advisers for drafting project documents that would not only meet the ends of public policy but would also be bankable.

For creating a transparent, fair and competitive environment, the Government has been relying increasingly on standardising the documents and processes for award and implementation of PPP projects. Based on international best practices, a number of Model Concession Agreements (MCAs) have been evolved for different sectors. The process of pre-qualification and selection of bidders has also been standardised through adoption of model documents for a two-stage selection comprising the Request for Qualification (RFQ) and Request for Proposals (RFP). These documents can be adapted with considerable ease for meeting the specific requirements of individual projects.

The rights and obligations of all stakeholders including the government, users and the concessionaire flow primarily out of the respective PPP contracts. The role of legal consultants in drafting the bid documents, therefore, assumes critical significance. Where new contracts are to be drafted, the legal consultants would have an extensive role. In cases where standard documents are to be applied, such as the Model RFQ, RFP and MCA, the role of legal consultants could be largely confined to adapting these documents to project-specific requirements. They would also be expected to provide legal counsel in the course of bid process and award, including execution of the agreement and its coming into effect. Legal advice may also be necessary on matters ranging from regulatory review to execution and enforcement of project contracts.

Selection and appointment of law firms, however, is more complex than is normally anticipated. Setting the eligibility conditions, the parameters of evaluation and the remuneration structure based on the time spent and output delivered pose issues that are different compared to selection of advisers for other disciplines. The objective is to engage a reputed law firm with an experienced and qualified legal expert who will provide the requisite advice and settle the project documents. The process of selection should not only be fair, transparent and competitive, it should enable the selection of competent experts. The Model Request for Proposals (RFP) for selection of legal consultants contained in this volume aims at meeting these objectives. It also specifies procedures and processes to be followed in conducting the selection process.

This Model RFP has been drafted after extensive consultations with ministries, stakeholders and experts. It was approved by the Empowered Sub-committee of the Committee on Infrastructure in its meeting held on May 13, 2009 under the chairmanship of Deputy Chairman, Planning Commission and has since been issued by the Department of Expenditure with the approval of the Finance Minister. The Ministries and autonomous bodies of the Central Government are expected to follow this Model RFP in the selection and appointment of legal consultants for PPP projects. This Model RFP would also serve as a best practice document for the State Governments to adopt. It is hoped that adoption of this document would enhance the possibilities of delivering successful PPP projects.

Overview of the framework

Need for a standardised framework

With a view to enabling a smooth transition from public sector projects to PPPs and for adoption of best practices, Government of India has recognised the critical role of standardising documents and processes to be adopted for structuring and award of Public Private Partnership (PPP) concessions. Standardised documents enable project authorities to save on the time and costs involved in structuring complex PPP projects. In addition, they afford protection to individual entities and officials against making errors and answering for them. Such standard documents typically lay down the norms, principles and parameters to be followed for PPP projects and enable project authorities to adopt them with considerable ease for meeting the specific requirements of individual projects.

Standardised documents save on time and costs; avoid costly mistakes

Need for Consultants

The process of structuring PPPs is complex and the requisite expertise does not normally exist within the government. Nor do the Project Authorities have the time and staff resources that go into fine-tuning the documentation for PPPs. Employing experienced consultants enables the project authorities to enhance the possibilities of a successful project, helps in avoiding costly mistakes, promotes capacity building within the government sector and builds investor confidence in the entire process.

Consultants required for structuring a successful PPP project

Separate technical, financial and legal consultants

The Central Ministries, State governments or Statutory entities owning such projects (the “Project Authorities”) would normally need expert financial, legal and technical advice for formulating project documents necessary for award and implementation of PPP projects in an efficient, transparent and fair manner. Project Authorities sometimes seek the comfort of a single consultancy firm to handle all aspects of project preparation and award. While it may appear to be a convenient approach especially for Project Authorities lacking in experience, this can lead to sub-optimal outcomes and large contingent liabilities or claims arising out of the project document and contract. It is an international best practice to engage technical, legal and financial consultants separately as the firms rendering such services are independent of each other and must also provide their advice independently. Where necessary, the Project Authorities may also entrust the financial adviser with the role of transaction adviser for coordinating the bid process.

Separate technical, legal and financial consultants

To begin the process of project structuring, it would be essential to engage technical consultants for preparing a feasibility report. In case of complex projects, a pre-feasibility report can also be considered. Besides establishing the physical and technical feasibility of a project, the feasibility report should also include a broad assessment of the financial viability of the project. When the feasibility of a project is established, it would be necessary to engage financial consultants for developing a financial model for the project and for assisting the project authorities in conducting the bid process. It would also be necessary to engage legal consultants for adapting the model documents for individual projects. Such model documents include the Request for Qualification (RFQ), Request for Proposals (RFP) and the Model Concession Agreements (MCAs). In case of sectors where an MCA is not available, it would be necessary to engage qualified and reputed law firms who have experience in drafting such concession agreements and can draw upon the provisions of MCAs to the extent they can be applied.

Role of legal consultants

The role of legal consultants is critical since the success of a PPP project depends on a sound contract. This includes adapting model documents and/ or drafting contracts and bid documents. Legal firms also provide consultancy on matters ranging from regulatory review to executing and enforcing the project contracts. They can draft contracts, concessions, lease agreements and licences and provide advice on the prequalification process, evaluation of bids and execution of contracts. The firm and the individuals proposed to be deployed should have the necessary experience in dealing with such commercial contracts. An important aspect of good legal advice is that the consultant should clearly explain to the Project Authorities the implications of contract terms and contingent liabilities. However, in cases where standard documents are to be applied, such as the Model RFQ, RFP and MCA, the role of legal consultants should largely be confined to adapting these documents to project-specific situations and for providing legal counsel in the course of bid process and award, including execution of the agreement and its coming into effect.

Fair and transparent selection process

The appointment of consultants should not be treated in the same manner as procurement of goods and other services where the bid is awarded to the lowest financial bidder based on pre-determined specifications. This is so because what sets consultancy services apart from other procurements is the advisory and intellectual nature of services which are not amenable to precise quantification.

Procurement of consultants different from procurement of goods and services

Importance of Terms of Reference

The Terms of Reference (ToR) of the consultant provide a brief description of the services the consultant is required to perform. They should include background information, a statement of objectives, a precise scope of work, the nature and number of key personnel to be deployed, schedule for completion of task, the indicative work plan, level of effort, the inputs to be provided by the Project Authority and the deliverables/ outputs that will be required from the consultant.

The ToR should be detailed and clearly defined since the performance of the consultant would necessarily have to be measured in terms of the agreed ToR. Clarity in ToR is essential to ensure that the consultants have a clear understanding of the aims and objectives of the Project Authority and the relevance of their consultancy.

ToR should be clear and precise

Deliverables

It is important to define in the RFP the deliverables expected by the Project Authority at various stages of the consultancy assignment. The deliverables in the form of advice/documents/reports should be formulated after suitable consultations with the Project Authority. The time frame for the deliverables should be clearly defined and must be adequate for the consultant to prepare an output that is desired by the Project Authority. Normally it is advisable to appoint a nodal/officer to interact with the consultant and to ensure that the period of consultancy is utilised to the optimum.

Key Dates

The Key Dates in the RFP indicate the time schedule that the Project Authority expects the consultant to follow in accordance with the requirement of awarding the project. Normally, the services of the legal consultant are required for a maximum period of one year although dedicated deployment of personnel is required for a period of 16-20 weeks. The payment to the consultant is linked to the man hours spent on a specific deliverable and the payment schedule is stated upfront in the RFP.

Importance of Agreement

The draft contract agreement covers the terms and conditions of employment of the winning bidder. A standard contract should be used for this purpose. Key elements that the contract ought to include inter alia are the term or duration of the contract; description of the scope of work; provision for modifications to the scope of work; definition of specific tasks and responsibilities; elimination of conflict of interest; change of personnel and use of sub-consultants; ownership of property used by consultant during the course of the project; insurance requirements with specified level of coverage; dispute resolution, including the use of specified rules for arbitration; treatment of Force Majeure; conditions for termination; contract price; and payment schedule.

A binding agreement is necessary

Eligible Projects

Consultants should normally be selected on the basis of their track record and relevant experience. The RFP should clearly indicate the value and nature of past assignments that would be considered eligible for the purpose of evaluating the applicants. Besides a minimum eligibility criteria, the RFP should specify the manner in which past experience would be evaluated.

Evaluation should rely on track record

Key Personnel

The quality of the deliverables from the legal consultant would largely depend on the experience and expertise of the Legal Expert engaged for the assignment. The Project Authority must, therefore, determine the nature and discipline of the advice required and identify a Legal Expert who would play a critical role in the consulting assignment. The Legal Expert should be clearly specified in the bid documents and his minimum qualifications and experience should also be indicated. The Legal Adviser and Legal Expert should be evaluated independently and marks assigned. About 30 per cent of the marks to the Legal Adviser and Legal Expert may be awarded for the number of relevant eligible assignments the respective key personnel has worked on and the remaining 70 per cent may be awarded for the comparative size and quality of such assignments and relevant experience.

Key personnel to be clearly specified in the bid documents

The minimum time required from each key personnel must also be clearly spelt out in the bid documents so that their services are made available as specified in the bid documents. This would check the tendency of including senior experts in the bid documents but deploying junior personnel when work begins. It is necessary to ensure that the Legal Expert who has been offered is actually deployed for project work or else the entire assignment would be vitiated. The RFP document, should, therefore, specify the days and hours that the Legal Expert must spend on the project and this stipulation should be amenable to close monitoring.

Evaluation of Key personnel must be undertaken with care and diligence

Two-envelope system

Consultancy services are normally procured through a 'two-envelope' system comprising a technical bid and a financial bid. This method of selection places due emphasis on the quality of consultants by assigning weightage to higher technical experience and expertise. The technical and financial bids are submitted in two separate sealed covers duly superscribed and kept inside a bigger cover which should also be duly sealed and superscribed. The technical bid comprises the information relating to the experience and qualification of the consultant whereas the financial bid comprises the financial offer made by the consultant for performing the services as per the Terms of Reference.

Weightage to higher technical competence

The technical bid is to be opened first. A technical evaluation should be carried out by an evaluation committee constituted by the Project Authority and a list of bidders qualifying the technical criteria should be prepared at this stage, based on pre-determined criteria. The bidders should be ranked according to their respective technical scores. Only the bidders scoring the minimum prescribed marks should be pre-qualified and not more than five bidders should normally be short-listed.

In the second stage, a financial evaluation is to be carried out. The financial bids of only the short listed bidders should be opened for the purpose of further evaluation. Proposals should be finally ranked based on their combined technical and financial scores.

Technical evaluation

The technical proposal should be evaluated mainly for the experience of the applicant firm as well as the experience and qualifications of the Legal Expert offered for the project. Since the quality of the consulting assignment would largely depend on the qualifications and relevant experience of Legal Expert proposed to be deployed on the project, only 30 per cent of the maximum marks have been assigned for the experience of the applicant firm while 70 per cent of the maximum marks have been assigned for the Legal Expert and key personnel. Evaluation of Legal Expert is the most important component of evaluation and must, therefore, be undertaken with care and diligence.

Key personnel
play a dominant role

Only those applicants, whose technical proposals score the minimum prescribed marks, say 60 points or more out of 100 should be ranked as per score achieved by them, from highest to the lowest technical score. Each key personnel must also have the minimum prescribed qualification.

Short-listing of Applicants

Not more than five applicants should be prequalified and shortlisted for financial evaluation in the second stage. The purpose of restricting the number to five is to ensure that only proposals of high technical standards are considered. This would also provide applicants an incentive to prepare

Proposals of high technical standards to be considered

sound proposals. The advantages of getting competent professionals are obvious from the perspective of the Project Authorities.

If the number of pre-qualified bidders is less than two, the Authority may in its sole discretion, pre-qualify the Applicant(s) whose technical score is less than 60 per cent, the minimum prescribed, so that at least two applicants compete for the assignment.

Financial Evaluation

In the second stage the financial evaluation should be carried out by assigning a financial score to each financial proposal. The total cost indicated in the financial proposal should be considered for the purpose of financial evaluation. The lowest financial proposal should be given a financial score of 100 points. The financial scores of other proposals should be determined proportionately.

Combined Scores

Proposals should finally be ranked according to their combined technical and financial scores, based on the respective weightage assigned to them. For the purpose of arriving at combined scores, appropriate weightages should be determined for the technical and financial bids. The ratio of weightages for technical and financial bids should be established well in advance and incorporated in the RFP document. The respective weightages should normally be 70 per cent for the technical bid and 30 per cent for the financial bid since the experience and expertise of the consultants would play a critical role in the delivery of services by the consultant.

Generally the successful applicant shall be the applicant having the highest combined score. In the event two or more proposals have the same scores in the final ranking, the proposal with the higher technical score should be ranked first.

Conclusion

A Model RFP document for appointment of legal consultant has been developed based on the principles outlined above. It is generic in nature and aims at lending transparency and efficiency to the selection process. It also provides the requisite sector-specific and project-specific flexibility by placing several provisions within square brackets, thus enabling the project authorities to make necessary substitutions. Some flexibility has also been afforded by the respective footnotes. To the extent possible, the concerned Ministries should standardise the provisions contained in square brackets so that case by case modifications are minimised.

Model RFP document should be followed

The Model RFP document for appointment of legal consultants addresses the critical requirements that should be satisfied for conducting a fair and transparent bidding process. The administrative ministries and other government entities intending to procure the services of legal consultants for PPP projects should observe these guidelines and adopt the Model RFP document for selection of legal consultants.

GUIDELINES OF THE MINISTRY OF FINANCE

File No. 24(23)/PF-II/2008

Government of India

Ministry of Finance

Department of Expenditure

Plan Finance II Division

New Delhi, July 9, 2009

OFFICE MEMORANDUM

Sub: Model Request for Proposals (RFP) for Appointment of Legal Consultants

1.0. The undersigned is directed to state that for selection of legal consultants for PPP projects, the Model RFP contained herein may be followed henceforth.

EXISTING GUIDELINES ON PROCUREMENT OF CONSULTANTS

2.0. The General Financial Rules (GFR) lay down the general principles to be adopted for procurement of goods and services. In particular, Chapter 6 of GFR deals with 'Procurement of Goods and Services'.

3.0. In order to provide detailed generic guidelines, the Department of Expenditure had issued a Manual of Policies and Procedure for Employment of Consultants in August 2006. This Manual is intended to serve as a practical guide to Ministries and Departments for engaging the services of consultants for various projects. These guidelines suggest many alternate methodologies for procurement of consultants, which include: (i) Quality-cum-cost based selection system (QCBS); (ii) Combined quality-cum-cost based selection system (CQCBS); (iii) Quality based selection system (QBS); and (iv) Cost based selection system (CBS). The methodology to be adopted for selection of consultants depends on the nature and complexity of the projects for which consultants are proposed to be engaged, especially with respect to an appropriate balance between the quality and cost of engaging a consultant.

NEED FOR AN RFP DOCUMENT

4.0. The above mentioned Rules and Manual apply to all types of projects, whether Public Private Partnership (PPP) projects or EPC contracts. However, since PPP projects are inherently different from the normal projects implemented by Government Departments/Ministries, a need has arisen for a separate RFP document for selection and appointment of legal consultants for PPP projects.

5.0. The RFP document for selection of legal consultants is substantially based on the duly approved framework for the RFP for selection of technical consultants. Prior to its approval by the Empowered Sub-Committee of the Committee on Infrastructure (ESCOI), the RFP document for selection of technical consultants was evolved by an Inter-Ministerial Group (IMG) under Special Secretary (Expenditure) with representation from Planning Commission, Department of Economic Affairs and other related Ministries and was also considered and endorsed by a Committee chaired by Shri B.K. Chaturvedi, Member Planning Commission. The RFP document for selection of legal consultants was subjected to consultations with the ministries, state governments, law firms and other stakeholders. The document so evolved was approved by the ESCOI in its meeting held on 13 May, 2009.

- 6.0. The RFP document for selection of legal consultants is primarily meant to be used for selection of a legal consultant for specific projects. However, where a project authority is undertaking repetitive projects such as in the case of highways, this document can be used for selection of a consultant for advising on a cluster of projects which are similar in nature. In a project where the work only involves adoption of the duly approved model documents, a legal adviser may be appointed in accordance with the provisions of GFR and without going through the process specified in this RFP. Further, for small projects such as those where the underlying value of the assets is less than Rs. 10 crore, the project authority may, instead of appointing a law firm, appoint a competent consulting firm which may also procure and provide legal advice as part of its project assignment.

KEY PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE RFP

- 7.0. The key principles governing the RFP are stated below.

Separate technical, financial and legal consultants

- 8.0. The Project Authorities would normally need expert financial, legal and technical advice for formulating project documents necessary for award and implementation of projects in an efficient, transparent and fair manner. It is advisable to engage technical, legal and financial consultants separately as the firms rendering such services are independent of each other and must also provide their advice independently. However, a single consultant firm may be engaged for handling all aspects of project preparation and award in exceptional circumstances and for low value projects only.

Role of legal consultants

- 9.0. The role of legal consultants is critical since the success of a PPP project depends on a sound contract. This includes adapting model documents and / or drafting contracts and bid documents. Legal firms also provide consultancy on matters ranging from regulatory review to executing and enforcing the project contracts. They can draft contracts, concessions, lease agreements and licences and provide advice on the prequalification process, evaluation of bids and execution of contracts. The firm and the individuals proposed to be deployed should have the necessary experience in dealing with such commercial contracts. An important aspect of good legal advice is that the consultant should clearly explain to the Project Authorities the implications of contract terms and contingent liabilities. However, in cases where standard documents are to be applied, such as the Model RFQ, RFP and MCA, the role of legal consultants should largely be confined to adapting these documents to project-specific situations and for providing legal counsel in the course of bid process and award, including execution of the agreement and its coming into effect.

Fair and transparent selection process

10.0. The appointment of consultants should not be treated in the same manner as procurement of goods and other services where the bid is awarded to the lowest financial bidder based on pre-determined specifications. This is so because what sets consultancy services apart from other procurements is the advisory and intellectual nature of services which are not amenable to precise quantification.

Importance of Terms of Reference

11.0. The Terms of Reference (ToR) of the consultant provide a brief description of the services the consultant is required to perform. They should include background information, a statement of objectives, a precise scope of work, the nature and number of key personnel to be deployed, schedule for completion of task, the indicative work plan, level of effort, the inputs to be provided by the Project Authority and the deliverables/ outputs that will be required from the consultant.

Deliverables

12.0. It is important to define in the RFP the deliverables expected by the Project Authority at various stages of the consultancy assignment. The deliverables in the form of advice/documents/reports should be formulated after suitable consultations with the Project Authority. The time frame for the deliverables should be clearly defined and must be adequate for the consultant to prepare an output that is desired by the Project Authority. Normally it is advisable to appoint a nodal/officer to interact with the consultant and to ensure that the period of consultancy is utilised to the optimum.

Key Dates

13.0. The Key Dates in the RFP indicate the time schedule that the Project Authority expects the consultant to follow in accordance with the requirement of awarding the project. Normally, the services of the legal consultant are required for a period of about one year, though dedicated deployment of personnel may be required only for a period of 20-24 weeks. The payment of the consultant is linked to the man hours spent on a specific deliverable and the payment schedule should be stated upfront in the RFP.

Importance of Agreement

14.0. The draft contract agreement covers the terms and conditions of employment of the winning bidder. A standard contract should be used for this purpose. Key elements that the contract ought to include inter alia are the term or duration of the contract; description of the scope of work; provision for modifications to the scope of work; definition of specific tasks and responsibilities; elimination of conflict of interest; change of personnel and use of sub-consultants; ownership of property used by consultant during the course of the project; insurance requirements with specified level of coverage; dispute resolution, including the use of specified rules for arbitration;

treatment of Force Majeure; conditions for termination; contract price; and payment schedule.

Eligible Projects

15.0. Consultants should normally be selected on the basis of their track record and relevant experience. The RFP should clearly indicate the value and nature of past assignments that would be considered eligible for the purpose of evaluating the applicants. Besides a minimum eligibility criteria, the RFP should specify the manner in which past experience would be evaluated.

Key Personnel

16.0. The quality of the legal advice would largely depend on the experience and expertise of the key personnel engaged for the assignment. The Project Authority must, therefore, determine the nature and discipline of the advice required and identify a limited number of key personnel, including the team leader, who would play a critical role in the consulting assignment.

Two-envelope system

17.0. Consultancy services are normally procured through a 'two-envelope' system comprising a technical bid and a financial bid. This method of selection places due emphasis on the quality of consultants by assigning weightage to higher technical experience and expertise. The technical and financial bids are submitted in two separate sealed covers duly superscribed and kept inside a bigger cover which should also be duly sealed and superscribed.

18.0. A technical evaluation should be carried out by an evaluation committee constituted by the Project Authority and a list of bidders qualifying the technical criteria should be prepared at this stage, based on pre-determined criteria. The bidders should be ranked according to their respective technical scores. Only the bidders scoring the minimum prescribed marks should be pre-qualified and not more than five bidders should normally be short-listed.

19.0. In the second stage, a financial evaluation is to be carried out. The financial bids of only the short listed bidders should be opened for the purpose of further evaluation. Proposals should be finally ranked based on their combined technical and financial scores.

Technical evaluation

20.0. The technical proposal should be evaluated mainly for the experience of the applicant firm as well as the experience and qualifications of the key personnel offered for the project. Evaluation of key personnel is the most important component of evaluation and must, therefore, be undertaken with care and diligence.

Short-listing of Applicants

21.0 Not more than 5 applicants should be prequalified and shortlisted for financial evaluation in the second stage. The purpose of restricting the number to five is to ensure that only proposals of high technical standards are considered. This would also provide applicants an incentive to prepare sound proposals. If the number of pre-qualified bidders is less than two, the Authority may in its sole discretion, pre-qualify the Applicant(s) whose technical score is less than 70%, the minimum prescribed, so that at least two applicants compete for the assignment.

Financial Evaluation

22.0. In the second stage the financial evaluation should be carried out by assigning a financial score to each financial proposal. The total cost indicated in the financial proposal should be considered for the purpose of financial evaluation.

Combined Scores

23.0. Proposals should finally be ranked according to their combined technical and financial scores, based on the respective weightage assigned to them. For the purpose of arriving at combined scores, appropriate weightages should be determined for the technical and financial bids. The ratio of weightages for technical and financial bids should be established well in advance and incorporated in the RFP document. Generally the successful applicant shall be the applicant having the highest combined score. In the event two or more proposals have the same scores in the final ranking, the proposal with the highest technical score should be ranked first.

Project-specific flexibility

24.0. The Model RFP document provides the requisite sector-specific and project-specific flexibility by placing several provisions within square brackets, thus enabling the project authorities to make necessary substitutions. Some flexibility has also been afforded by the respective footnotes. To the extent possible, the concerned Ministries should standardise the provisions contained in square brackets so that case by case modifications are minimised.

CONCLUSION

25.0. The Model RFP document annexed with this OM has been developed based on the principles outlined above. It is generic in nature and aims at lending transparency and efficiency to the selection process. It addresses the critical requirements that should be satisfied for conducting a fair and transparent bidding process. The administrative ministries and other government entities intending to procure the services of legal consultants should observe these guidelines and adopt the Model RFP document for selection of legal consultants.

26.0. This RFP shall apply to all Ministries and Departments of the Central Government, all statutory entities under the control of Central Government and all Central Public Sector Undertakings (CPSUs).

RELAXATION OF GFR PROVISIONS

- 27.0. GFR provisions relating to hiring of consultants stand relaxed to the extent of the procedure indicated in this OM specifically and only for the purposes of hiring of legal consultants for PPP projects.
- 28.0. These instructions shall come into force with immediate effect and will apply to all cases where bids are invited after June 1, 2009.

Any Applicant found to have a Conflict of Interest shall be disqualified. In the event of disqualification, the Authority shall forfeit and appropriate the Performance Security, if available, as mutually agreed genuine pre-estimated compensation and damages payable to the Authority for, inter alia, the time, cost and effort of the Authority including consideration of such Applicant’s Proposal, without prejudice to any other right or remedy that may be available to the Authority hereunder or otherwise.

2.3.2 The Authority requires that the Legal Adviser provides professional, objective, and impartial advice and at all times hold the Authority’s interests paramount, avoid conflicts with other assignments or its own interests, and act without any consideration for future work. The Legal Adviser shall not accept or engage in any assignment that would be in conflict with its prior or current obligations to other clients, or that may place it in a position of not being able to carry out the assignment in the best interests of the Authority.

2.3.3 Some guiding principles for identifying and addressing Conflicts of Interest have been illustrated in the Guidance Note at Schedule-3. Without limiting the generality of the above, an Applicant shall be deemed to have a Conflict of Interest affecting the Selection Process, if:

- (a) the Applicant, its consortium member (the “Member”) or Associates (or any constituent thereof) and any other Applicant, its consortium member or Associate (or any constituent thereof) have common controlling shareholders or other ownership interest; provided that this disqualification shall not apply in cases where the direct or indirect shareholding or ownership interest of an Applicant, its Member or Associate (or any shareholder thereof having a shareholding of more than 5 per cent of the paid up and subscribed share capital of such Applicant, Member or Associate, as the case may be) in the other Applicant, its consortium member or Associate is less than 5% (five per cent) of the subscribed and paid up equity share capital thereof; provided further that this disqualification shall not apply to any ownership by a bank, insurance company, pension fund or a public financial institution referred to in sub-section (72) of section 2 of the Companies Act, 2013. For the purposes of this Clause 2.3.3(a), indirect shareholding held through one or more intermediate persons shall be computed as follows: (aa) where any intermediary is controlled by a person through management control or otherwise, the entire shareholding held by such controlled intermediary in any other person

(the “Subject Person”) shall be taken into account for computing the shareholding of such controlling person in the Subject Person; and (bb) subject always to sub-clause (aa) above, where a person does not exercise control over an intermediary, which has shareholding in the Subject Person, the computation of indirect shareholding of such person in the Subject Person shall be undertaken on a proportionate basis; provided, however, that no such shareholding shall be reckoned under this Sub-clause (bb) if the shareholding of such person in the intermediary is less than 26% (twenty six per cent) of the subscribed and paid up equity shareholding of such intermediary; or

- (b) a constituent of such Applicant is also a constituent of another Applicant; or
- (c) such Applicant or its Associate receives or has received any direct or indirect subsidy or grant from any other Applicant or its Associate; or
- (d) such Applicant has the same legal representative for purposes of this Application as any other Applicant; or
- (e) such Applicant has a relationship with another Applicant, directly or through common third parties, that puts them in a position to have access to each other’s information about, or to influence the Application of either or each of the other Applicant; or
- (f) there is a conflict among this and other consulting assignments of the Applicant (including its personnel and other members, if any) and any subsidiaries or entities controlled by such Applicant or having common controlling shareholders. The duties of the Legal Adviser will depend on the circumstances of each case. While providing consultancy services to the Authority for this particular assignment, the Legal Adviser shall not take up any assignment that by its nature will result in conflict with the present assignment; or
- (g) a firm which has been engaged by the Authority to provide goods or works or services for a project, and its Associates, will be disqualified from providing consulting services for the same project save and except as provided in Clause 2.3.4; conversely, a firm hired to provide consulting services for the preparation or implementation of a project, and its Members or Associates, will be disqualified from subsequently providing goods or works or services related to the same project; or
- (h) the Applicant, its Member or Associate (or any constituent thereof), and the bidder or Concessionaire, if any, for the Project, its contractor(s) or sub-contractor(s) (or any constituent thereof) have common controlling shareholders or other ownership interest; provided that this disqualification shall not apply in cases where the direct or indirect shareholding or ownership interest of an Applicant, its Member or Associate (or any shareholder thereof having a shareholding of more than 5% (five per cent) of the paid up and subscribed share capital of such Applicant, Member or Associate, as the case may be,) in the bidder or Concessionaire, if any, or its contractor(s) or sub-contractor(s) is less than 5% (five per cent) of the paid up and subscribed share capital of such Concessionaire or its contractor(s) or sub-contractor(s); provided further that this disqualification shall not apply to ownership by a bank, insurance company, pension fund or a Public Financial Institution referred to in sub-section (72) of section 2 of the Companies Act, 2013. For the purposes of this Sub-clause (h), indirect shareholding shall be computed in accordance with the provisions of Sub-clause (a) above.

For purposes of this RFP, Associate means, in relation to the Applicant, a person who controls, is controlled by, or is under the common control with such Applicant, or is deemed or published as an “Associate Office”; or has a formal arrangement such as tie up for client referral or technology sharing, joint venture or “Best Friend Relationship” with the Applicant (the “Associate”); provided, however, that if the Applicant has any formal arrangement such as consortium membership in a consortium of advisers/ consultants for a particular assignment/ project, not being this project, with any other person, then such other person shall not be treated to be an Associate of the Applicant solely due to the reason of forming such consortium. As used in this definition, the expression “control” means, with respect to a person which is a company or corporation, the ownership, directly or indirectly, of more than 50% (fifty per cent) of the voting shares of such person, and with respect to a person which is not a company or corporation, the power to direct the management and policies of such person by operation of law or by contract.

- 2.3.4 An Applicant eventually appointed to provide Consultancy for this Project, its Associates, affiliates and the Legal Expert, shall be disqualified from subsequently providing goods or works or services related to the construction and operation of the same Project and any breach of this obligation shall be construed as Conflict of Interest; provided that the restriction herein shall not apply after a period of 5 (five) years from the completion of this assignment or to any consulting assignments granted by banks/ lenders at any time; provided further that this restriction shall not apply to consultancy/ advisory services performed for the Authority in continuation of this Consultancy or to any subsequent consultancy/ advisory services performed for the Authority in accordance with the rules of the Authority. For the avoidance of doubt, an entity affiliated with the Legal Adviser shall include a partner in the Legal Adviser’s firm or a person who holds more than 5% (five per cent) of the subscribed and paid up share capital of the Legal Adviser, as the case may be, and any Associate thereof. For the avoidance of doubt, in the event that: (a) the Legal Expert of an Applicant/ Legal Adviser was a partner or an employee of another firm, which attracts the provisions relating to Conflict of Interest hereunder; and (b) was directly or indirectly associated with any assignment that causes a Conflict of Interest hereunder, then such Legal Expert shall be deemed to suffer from Conflict of Interest for the purpose hereof.

2.4 Number of Proposals

No Applicant or its Associate shall submit more than one Application for the Consultancy. An Applicant applying individually or as an Associate shall not be entitled to submit another application either individually or as a member of any consortium, as the case may be.

2.5 Cost of Proposal

2.8.1 Notwithstanding anything contained in this RFP, the Authority reserves the right to accept or reject any Proposal and to annul the Selection Process and reject all Proposals, at any time without any liability or any obligation for such acceptance, rejection or annulment, and without assigning any reasons therefor.

2.8.2 Without prejudice to the generality of Clause 2.8.1, the Authority reserves the right to reject any Proposal if:

- (a) at any time, a material misrepresentation is made or discovered, or

For the purposes of satisfying the Conditions of Eligibility and for evaluating the Proposals under this RFP, advisory/ consultancy assignments granted by the government, regulatory commission, tribunal, multilateral agencies, statutory authority or public sector entity in respect of review and/or preparation of concession agreements and other similar documents, and/or in relation to the bidding process or other transactions, as the case may be, for the following projects shall be deemed as eligible assignments (the “Eligible Assignments”):

3.3.2 For financial evaluation, the total cost indicated in the Financial Proposal, excluding Additional Costs, will be considered. Additional Costs shall include items specified as such in Form-2 of Appendix-II.

3.3.3 The Authority will determine whether the Financial Proposals are complete, unqualified and unconditional. The cost indicated in the Financial Proposal shall be deemed as final and reflecting the total cost of services. Omissions, if any, in costing any item shall not entitle the Legal Adviser to be compensated and the liability to fulfil its obligations as per the TOR within the total quoted price shall be that of the Legal Adviser. For the avoidance of doubt, the parties hereto expressly agree that in addition to appropriation of the amounts withheld hereunder, in the event of any default requiring the appropriation of further amounts comprising the Performance Security, the Authority may make deductions from any subsequent payments due and payable to the Legal Adviser hereunder, as if it is appropriating the Performance Security in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

However, in case of delay due to reasons beyond the control of the Legal Adviser, suitable extension of time shall be granted.

7.2.3 Encashment and appropriation of Performance Security

The Authority shall have the right to invoke and appropriate the proceeds of the Performance Security, in whole or in part, without notice to the Legal Adviser in the event of breach of this Agreement or for recovery of liquidated damages specified in this Clause 7.2.

SCHEDULE-3*(See Clause 2.3.3)Guidance Note on Conflict of Interest

1. This Note further explains and illustrates the provisions of Clause 2.3 of the RFP and shall be read together therewith in dealing with specific cases.
2. Consultants should be deemed to be in a conflict of interest situation if it can be reasonably concluded that their position in a business or their personal interest could improperly influence their judgment in the exercise of their duties. The process for selection of consultants should avoid both actual and perceived conflict of interest.
3. Conflict of interest may arise between the Authority and a consultant or between consultants and present or future concessionaries/ contractors. Some of the situations that would involve conflict of interest are identified below:
 - (a) Authority and consultants:
 - (i) Potential consultant should not be privy to information from the Authority which is not available to others.
 - (ii) Potential consultant should not have defined the project when earlier working for the Authority.
 - (iii) Potential consultant should not have recently worked for the Authority overseeing the project.
 - (b) Consultants and concessionaires/contractors:
 - (i) No consultant should have an ownership interest or a continuing business interest or an on-going relationship with a potential concessionaire/ contractor save and except relationships restricted to project-specific and short-term assignments.
 - (ii) No consultant should be involved in owning or operating entities resulting from the project.
 - (iii) No consultant should bid for works arising from the project.

The participation of companies that may be involved as investors or consumers and officials of the Authority who have current or recent connections to the companies involved, therefore, needs to be avoided.
4. The normal way to identify conflicts of interest is through self-declaration by consultants. Where a conflict exists, which has not been declared, competing companies are likely to bring this to the notice of the Authority. All conflicts must be declared as and when the consultants become aware of them.
5. Another approach towards avoiding a conflict of interest is through the use of “Chinese walls” to avoid the flow of commercially sensitive information from one part of the consultant’s company to another. This could help overcome the problem of availability of limited numbers of experts for the project. However, in reality effective operation of “Chinese walls” may be a difficult proposition. As a general rule, larger companies will be more capable of adopting Chinese walls approach than smaller companies. Although, “Chinese walls” have been relatively common for many years, they are an increasingly discredited means of avoiding conflicts of interest and should be considered with caution. As a rule, “Chinese walls” should be considered as unacceptable and may be accepted only in exceptional cases upon full disclosure by a consultant coupled with provision of safeguards to the satisfaction of the Authority.

6. Another way to avoid conflicts of interest is through the appropriate grouping of tasks. For example, conflicts may arise if consultants drawing up the terms of reference or the proposed documentation are also eligible for the consequent assignment or project.
7. Another form of conflict of interest called “scope-creep” arises when consultants advocate either an unnecessary broadening of the terms of reference or make recommendations which are not in the best interests of the Authority but which will generate further work for the consultants. Some forms of contractual arrangements are more likely to lead to scope-creep. For example, lump-sum contracts provide fewer incentives for this, while time and material contracts provide built in incentives for consultants to extend the length of their assignment.
8. Every project contains potential conflicts of interest. Consultants should not only avoid any conflict of interest, they should report any present/potential conflict of interest to the Authority at the earliest. Officials of the Authority involved in development of a project shall be responsible for identifying and resolving any conflicts of interest. It should be ensured that safeguards are in place to preserve fair and open competition and measures should be taken to eliminate any conflict of interest arising at any stage in the process.
